Wichael told the Councilmen and Mayor Harold Robinson that he and his partner Rolland E St Johns both of Dayton are interested in starting a bus company here but cannot as yet make any proposition

Report Given Robinson by Gov. Lausche

Complaint That Boy Lost Pay in Pool Hall Game Leads to Action

Marion City Council acting speedily after receiving a report of gambling activities in Marion today banned all card playing in public places in the city

Its action came in an unprecedented Saturday morning session following receipt by Mayor Harold F Robinson of a letter from Gov Frank J Lausche who said he had received complaints that a Marion youth had been losing his weekly pay in card games here

Fine Jail Term Provided

The new ordinance prohibits all card playing in pool rooms soft drink parlors or other public places and provides a fine of from $100 to $500 or a six month jail term or both for anyone convicted of card playing in a public place It was approved unanimously as emergency legislation and will be effective immediately However it can t be enforced for ten days because of the penal provision

In the letter Gov Lausche reported he had received a complaint Feb 22 from the uncle of a 17 year old Marion boy about the youth s gambling activities

Gambled Away Earnings

Gov Lausche wrote that the uncle claimed the youth was employed and each week gambled away his $35 weekly salary in card games at two local pool halls

On receiving this letter yesterday morning Mayor Robinson called all available councilmen to his office at 1 p m to discuss it Six councilmen were present for the meeting and tentatively agreed to pass some legislation concerning card playing in the city

The ordinance adopted unanimously today by the entire Council membership places a minimum fine of $100 and a maximum penalty of $500 six months in jail or both on anyone convicted of card playing in a public place

Gov Lausche had closed his letter with these words Whether the complaint s true I can not say

I do hope and anticipate that you will check into this matter and take such action as the facts require under the law'

He also wrote that in the conversation with the youth s uncle he had been told a complaint had been registered with the police but no action taken by them

No Record of Complaint

Police Chief Thomas B Coon reported at a meeting of Council called by Mayor Robinson at 1 p m Friday that his department had no record of any complaint involving the youth or the two pool rooms nor had juvenile authorities received any such complaint

RESIGNS Gen Mohamed Naguib who was ousted as Egypt s president and accused of dictatorial aims signs his resignation in Cairo Naguib s post was taken over by Lt Col Gamal Abdel Nasser who became the new premier in a bloodless coup

Naguib, Nasser To Run Egypt, Cairo Reports

Colonel Who Led Coup To Be Prime Minister; Old President Returns

CAIRO Egypt (AP) — An army spokesman said today Gen Mohamed Naguib will return as president of Egypt and Lt Col Gamal Abdel Nasser will become his prime minister

The spokesman told reporters this was the result of a compromise agreement worked out to settle Egypt s internal political struggle

Ousted Thursday

Naguib was ousted and placed in virtual house arrest only Thursday after the ruling army council charged he was trying to become a dictator

Today s sudden turn of events came on the end of a day marked by an outbreak of conflicting loyalties within the army The first indication that something was afoot came in a radio broadcast this morning warning that all disorder would be severely crushed There was no hint in the broadcast as to the source from which the disorder might come

The split had been confirmed by Capt Fuad Nasr staff officer in charge of the revolutionary council headquarters

Will Give Up One Job

Under the compromise agreement Naguib will come back only as president He will relinquish his old second title of prime minister to Nasser the man who engineered his overthrow two days ago

The ruling revolutionary council holed up at the main army headquarters barracks at suburban Abbassia—tanks field guns and automatic riflemen on guard—and broadcast the warning

Any disturbances or disorder will be severely crushed

The urgent air of the military proceedings suggested the new premier Lt Col Gamal Abdel Nasser and the 10 young officers who sit with him on the council had discovered a plot in behalf of Naguib the modest conservative executive they dropped Thursday as their figurehead on the ground he was seeking dictatorial powers.

A staff officer at the council headquarters said 'two factions of the army are now in conflict over the forced resignation of Naguib" and the headquarters was temporarily closed even to its members

But up to noon 'here were no signs of fighting in Cairo

Bern said he found Sternbaum for a one inch wound near the back of his head He testified

In my opinion a wound such as that could not possibly have been self inflicted I would say such an injury would cause unconsciousness

Mexico Bans Political Party

'Constant Subversive Agitation' Criticized

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico last night outlawed the Federated Peoples party chief opposition to President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines dominant Revolutionary Institutional party on the ground it engaged in 'constant subversive agitation

The Interior Ministry announced the order hitting the three year old political organization of Gen Miguel Henriquez Guzman a retired army officer who ran a distant second to Ruiz Cortines in the 1952 presidential race

There was no immediate comment from Henriquez but political sources said today strong protests are inevitable and the party which polled 17 per cent of the vote in 1952 will not be inactive

The generals followers called Henriquistas are the first officially ordered out of the Mexican political picture as a party since the rightist Sinarquist Union was outlawed during the regime of President Manuel Avila Camacho in World War II.

Measure Submitted By George Loses In 60-31 Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower won a major victory in the Senate s vote last night killing proposals to amend the Constitution to limit treaty powers

The vote was 60-31 one fewer than the required two thirds of those balloting The proposal that lost was one by Sen George (D Ga) which had emerged as the final of several versions the Senate has been debating since Jan 20

Opposed Restrictions

The President has said he has no objection to an amendment that would declare no treaty or international agreement could override the Constitution but he has opposed various specific proposals he said unduly restricted the executive s right to handle foreign affairs

In the final vote 31 senators balked the will of 60 just as a minority may do on the ratification of treaties Only five senators of the 96 were not recorded on the roll call

George s proposal—which the Senate had favored previously by a preliminary 61 30 vote—would have done more than nullify provisions of treaties and other international agreements which conflict with the Constitution

Kilgore s Vote Decides

The President objected that one part of the George proposal—requiring congressional approval before international agreements could become effective as domestic law—would have impinged upon his war powers and his authority to deal with diplomats of other nations These agreements are made by the President or his representatives without having to be ratified by the Senate as treaties are

The margin of one no vote supplied dramatically at the last minute by Sen Kilgor (D WVa),

Stevens To Stay As Army Chief, Official Claims

Secretary Will Remain On Job Despite Furor Over McCarthy Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A source high in President Eisenhower s administration said today Robert T Stevens will continue as secretary of the Army despite the criticism levelled at his conduct during his quarrel with Sen McCarthy (R Wis)

This source who declined to be quoted by name said some of the administration s top advisers had counselled Stevens against taking on McCarthy at a televised hearing The source said they were now satisfied that whatever loss of prestige Stevens may have suffered because of an agreement widely interpreted as a surrender he still would have been made to 'look worse' if the hearing had taken place

Believe Row Will Die

Some Republicans in Congress expressed confidence the row over Stevens demands that Army witnesses be guaranteed against abusive treatment would now die down

McCarthy himself said yesterday he did not feel he has any difficulties with the White House and that his differences with Stevens are over— if he lives up to his agreement to let McCarthy question Army personnel in investigations of the stormy case of Maj Irving Peress

The duration of the present peace seemed today to depend at least in part on the timing and procedure of future probes by McCarthy s Senate investigations subcommittee

Unresolved Issue

He has for the moment put aside the case of Peress whom he calls a fifth amendment Communist promoted and given an honorable discharge from the Army Peress a New York dentist has termed McCarthy s charges sheer nonsense'

McCarthy however summoned two other Army men to a hearing Monday on a different matter

The still unresolved issue between Stevens and McCarthy is the Army secretary s contention that military personnel appearing

Generals Praise Party

Soviet Power Struggle Over, Moscow Indicates

By WILLIAM L RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

A parade of top Soviet generals officers this week paid glowing tribute in the Moscow press to the leadership of the armed forces by the Communist party—and Stalin

The tributes coming on the Soviet army day last Tuesday, laid such heavy stress on party devotion that they suggest an internal necessity to impress the point upon armed forces party and public

The mentions of Stalin had just a hint of the unabashed extravagance which attended use of his name in the press during his lifetime an indication that Stalinism still reigns in Moscow although the leader s glory has been somewhat dimmed in death

The stream of laudatory articles gives the impression that the party s present rulers have reached some sort of understanding with the armed forces The articles read almost as if all had been dictated by the same source as if in the discharging of an obligation

If the party has the armed forces safely under control the Kremlin power struggle likely is over at least for the time being The struggle reached a climax last July with the arrest of Lavrenty P Beria As head of the interior ministry he bossed a private army

Annual Meeting Held

Farm Bureau's Savings Increase Despite Blaze

The Marion County Farm Bureau Co-Op Association had a good year last year despite the fire which destroyed its Marion grain elevator, Manager George Schertzer told the group last night at its annual meeting in the Claridon School.

The bureau increased its savings by almost $13,000, Schertzer told the audience of about 150 persons.

The group heard reports on plans for the new building and on Farm Bureau grain, feed, machinery and farm crop operations. Elections to the board of directors also were held.

As of Nov. 1953, the Bureau's net worth of $312,208 was nearly $67,000 higher than last year's total of $245,824.

The volume of business dropped this year, due to the fire. It totaled $1 559,548 compared with $1,797,755 a year ago. However net savings totaled $19,236 compared with $6,837 last year.

Arch Smith of Columbus, head of the planning and development division of the Ohio Farm Bureau, described the proposed elevator building to the group. Bids will be received until noon, March 1 and construction should start a few days later.

THE BUILDING JOB will take approximately six months, he said. It is hoped to have the building in operation in early September, chairman of the board of directors Walter Mautz said.

for which the regular army officers had no love.

Col. Gen. A. S. Zheltov, chief of the political administration of the armed forces, wrote the essay in Pravda.

Other Generals Write

The government paper, Izvestia, carried articles by Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky, chief of staff of the armed forces, and the top navy man, Adm. N. G. Kuznetsov. Komsomolskaya Pravda, the Young Communist paper, had an article by Adm. S. Zakharov, and the trade union newspaper Trud had one by Lt. Gen. V. Vorobiev.

Zheltov is the man who elicited from top Soviet generals last spring, after Stalin's death, an oath of allegiance to the Communist party. His Pravda article said all Soviet victories were due to the "wise leadership of the Communist party, which is their organizer, leader and trainer." He paid tribute to Stalin as having changed the Soviet Union from an agrarian to a mighty industrial nation. The article also laid heavy stress in the need for Communist ideological training and discipline in the ranks.

Marshal Sokolovsky asserted the armed forces must be trained in the spirit of "unbreakable fidelity to their oath" plus "the spirit of boundless love and devotion to the motherland and the Communist party."

Adm. Kuznetzov wrote of the "great and wise leadership of the Communist party." Like Sokolovsky, he spoke of the victory in World War II "under the leadership of the Communist party and its central committee headed by comrade Stalin." His article was studded with tributes to the party.

Saudi Arabia, a sister state of Syria in the eight-nation Moslem League. He took off by plane today for Saudi Arabia after an overnight stay in Beirut as the guest of the Saudi Arabian legation.

The provisional regime established yesterday in Damascus, the capital and southern metropolis of Syria, was attacked by the radio at Aleppo, the commercial center of the north where the uprising against Shishekly was masterminded Thursday.

Telephoned advices from Damascus said communications between the northern and southern parts of the country had been cut.

A communique broadcast from Aleppo, whose 350,000 people make it Syria's largest city, declared the aim of the Aleppo rebels was not only the removal of Shishekly but the changing of the entire government and constitution. It declared they would continue the struggle until successful.

By proclamation of Parliament in Damascus, however, its speaker, Maahmoun El Kubari, is the temporary president. In making its choice, Parliament acted under a constitution Shishekly put through last June.

Kuzbari promised in a speech the election of a new president within two months and pledged to uphold that constitution.

Firemen Get Call To Fight Car Blaze

Firemen were called to extinguish a small fire in an automobile at 1 a.m. this morning. Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt reported today.

A car driven by Robert Thatcher of 263 Hane Ave. caught fire as a result of friction caused by driving with the emergency brake on. Firemen from Mark St. station were called to the corner of Main and Hazen Sts. to put out the blaze. They reported very minor damage.

Another alarm — which turned out to be false — was turned in. An unidentified passer - by saw smoke billowing out of open windows in the section of Taft Junior High School, now under construction. Central station firemen rushed to the scene and found no fire, just a small heating stove called a salamander. Chief Sifritt said the stove is used in construction to dry concrete.

J. H. Williams, justice of the peace, said the pilot definitely was "buzzing." Mayor R. M. Murray said "we're lucky the whole town wasn't ripped wide open."

The mayor said the huge plane clipped the top of a house at the start of its second buzz, shuddered, and started trailing smoke.

It was a clear, sunny day when the plane first roared over. People ran from houses and stores to watch. Nearly everyone in town (pop. 2,500) saw the violent climax.

Former Erie Employe Here Gets Appointment

Wendell R. Swatosh of Cleveland Heights, at one time associated with the Erie Railroad in Marion, has been promoted to assistant superintendent of construction for the Erie. The announcement has been made by Clair Blowers, chief engineer.

Mr. Swatosh went to work for the Erie as a rodman in an engineering crew at Palmer, Ind., in 1916 and advanced through various corps jobs until 1918 when he was promoted to resident engineer at Secaucus, N. J. It was in that capacity he served in Marion and in Youngstown, Huntington, Ind., Jersey City, Cresskill and Coalburg, N. J. In 1925 he was appointed assistant engineer in New York and went to Cleveland in that capacity when the Erie moved its headquarters in 1931.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER FIND EACH OTHER. Sixteen years ago Mrs. Carolyn Pichler of Redwood City, Calif., was told by her husband that their daughter was dead. The daughter, now Mrs. Wendell Jones, kept trying to find her mother, finally succeeded, and they met at train in Albany, Ore., then drove to Jones home in nearby Corvallis for visit. Here mother, daughter smile happily as daughter's husband too shows pleasure as he holds their baby, obscured by the head of Mrs. Pichler.

Card Game

linquency" he felt compelled to inform Mayor Robinson of the telephone conversation.

He urged the mayor and other city officials to take appropriate action concerning the complaint.

Mayor Robinson pointed out that some form of legislation would be desirable which would prevent all forms of card playing in pool rooms, soft drink parlors, and other public places.

Chief Coon gave councilmen attending the meeting Friday an explanation of why such legislation is needed.

Difficult To Prosecute

He said under existing laws, city police must file gambling charges under state statute. This makes it difficult to prosecute because in order to gain a conviction the arresting officers must find both cards and money on the table, he said.

In a recent raid on the Coffee Bar on W. Center St., it was necessary to employ a private detective to come in from out of town in order to get the necessary evidence for a conviction, he added.

In this instance, a buzzer system had been rigged up from a bar at the front of the establishment to an electric door lock leading to back room where gambling activities were carried on, he said. As another safeguard the proprietor had also rigged up a microphone in the front part of the building and hooked a loudspeaker in the card room so players knew at all times what was happening in the front room, Coon said.

Under such conditions it is almost impossible for police to enter a place and get into the back room in time to find the evidence of gambling such as money on the table. By the time police arrive they find the players are engaged in a friendly game of euchre or pinochle, and all money has been swept off the table, he explained.

$100 Detective Fee

This makes it necessary to hire the special operatives who can get into the games and be present when the raid is made to help preserve the evidence intact until police arrive in the room. Fees of the special operatives in such cases usually run more than $100, Coon said.

He noted also that in more than 250 gambling arrests made by police since 1948 no one convicted had been fined more than $100 and court costs—less than the actual cost of raking the raid.

Chief Coon told the councilmen that under such circumstances the gamblers paid their small fines much as they would annual dues. He explained that police could make an effective raid on any one place only once or twice a year.

Not only this, but the day after their appearance in court the gamblers are back in business but with their guard up, Coon said. They will not permit strangers to enter a card game and although police may know that gambling again is in progress, they must wait until such time as the gamblers relax their vigilance and police can get another special operative into the game.

Would Make Job Easier

With a law which completely prohibits all card playing for any reason whatsoever in such places, police my make an arest and gain a conviction anytime they walk into a place and find a card game in progress, regardless of whether money is on the table, Coon said.

Coon and Mayor Robinson both said at Friday's meeting that they had twice before asked for legislation prohibiting card playing but Council had felt that such a law would drive the card games under cover.

Chief Coon said that under the new law it would be easy for police to make arrests, whether or not the card games were played in the open or under cover.

He noted also that the 250 arrests during the last six years have succeeded in closing some places where gambling was carried on in the city, but others still exist.

Legality Questioned

In the discussions by Council this morning, Robert G. Haldeman, at-large, questioned whether it would be legal to restrict card playing under constitutional rights of citizens.

Police Chief Coon pointed out that the new law was prepared by City Solicitor George Piacentino and apparently was within the power of the Council.

He said a similar law had been on the city books from 1912 until last year when Council adopted a new codification in which this particular law was repealed. He recalled also that the 1912 law had been replaced in the 1930's with a new one essentially the same as the one adopted today except it permitted card playing until midnight on week days only.

There was some discussion as to what would be a proper minimum fine to establish for violation of the law. It was suggested both by Councilman Richard E. Lister, at-large and Harold Smith, First Ward, that the minimum be $200. However, Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Hazen was called in and suggested a better minimum might be $100 because the higher fine "might be to severe on the casual gambler."

On the judge's suggestion Council unanimously approved a motion by Lister to make the minimum $100 and costs.

Sternbaum

control my decision in this case. I do not believe in this case I should substitute my opinion on the credulity of witnesses for that of the jury. Testimony in this case shows that 12 minds could reach two or three conclusions."

Asks Acquittal

Herbert asked the acquittal on grounds the prosecution had failed in three weeks of testimony to prove Sternbaum's guilt. He claimed there had been "obvious perjury" on the part of a witness.

He referred to Miss Margaret Rozenman, who testified she had been Sternbaum's paramour. Herbert said she lied under oath. He said her story to a state fire marshal's investigator differed from one she told in court.

Miss Rozenman, 32-year-old former Columbus secretary, admitted she lied to the investigator but said she did so at Sternbaum's request.

Herbert, in cross - examination, asked if she had been willing to break up the home of her life-long friend, Leah Sternbaum, by causing a divorce.

"Yes," replied Miss Rozenman.

She has given detailed testimony regarding an affair she says she had with Sternbaum before and after his wife's death. She testified she accused Sternbaum of killing his wife but said he denied it.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz will cross examine Bein when the trial begins its fourth week Monday.

Stevens

before McCarthy's subcommittee should be guaranteed against the kind of treatment he said was inflicted on a general.

Stevens first refused and then gave permission for that general and another to appear as witnesses. The permission was expressed in a written memorandum that covered also other demands McCarthy had made and was generally interpreted as a surrender to the senator. Stevens reacted strongly against this interpretation and issued a statement intended to counteract it.

The President helped write this statement, the administration source said today.

McCarthy, who had charged that the statement contained "completely false" and "entirely untrue" language on two points, told a news conference yesterday he had nothing to add to that.

In the statement, which Eisenhower publicly endorsed, Stevens Thursday night insisted he had made the agreement only after receiving assurances Army witnesses would not be "brow-beaten" by the subcommittee.

Sticks to Claim

McCarthy stuck to his charge that was a "false" claim—contending that if he had agreed not to browbeat anyone in the future it would be the same as admitting he had browbeaten them in the past. He denied having done this and said future witnesses "will have the same consideration as in the past."

The administration source said that the advice to avoid the televised hearing came from Wilton B. Persons, liaison man between the White House and Capitol Hill, William P. Rogers, deputy attorney general and others.

Stevens accusing McCarthy of having "abused" Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker in questioning about the Peress case, had told Zwicker not to obey a subpoena calling him before McCarthy Tuesday for more questioning.

The White House advisers, the informant said, all told Stevens this was not a case in which he could expect to win much popular support in a televised hearing.

McCarthy had been bitterly critical of the Army for having promoted Peress, although he said Peress had refused on grounds of possible self-incrimination to answer questions the Army asked about any possible Communist connections.

The Pentagon disclosed last night that it had allowed Peress to resign from the Army earlier this month with an honorable discharge, knowing at the time McCarthy was demanding that Peress be subjected to court martial trial for "conduct unbecoming an officer" on grounds he was a Communist.

Amendment

apparently means there will be no amendment at all, although it is technically possible to reconsider the vote.

Associates said the outcome—no amendment—would be satisfactory to the President. If the Senate had passed the measure, they said, the administration would have redoubled efforts to kill or water it down in the House.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, went against the President on the final vote, after he previously had opposed substituting the George version for one administration spokesmen had helped work out.

Knowland told his colleagues that while the George proposal was unsatisfactory, the Senate should pass it and let the House try to make improvements in it.

Speaking from the rear of the chamber to emphasize that he was not talking as majority leader, Knowland said he thinks a "dangerous tendency has developed" in the form of executive department encroachment on the legislative branch.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, split with Knowland to vote against the measure.

Burke Joins Bricker In Voting for Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thomas A. Burke, a Democrat, yesterday joined his colleague from Ohio, Republican Sen. John W. Bricker, in voting for Bricker's constitutional amendment to limit the President's treaty-making powers.

The Senate voted 60-31 in favor of the amendment but failed to pass it by one vote because a two-thirds majority was necessary.

The Senate yesterday also passed 61-30 a compromise bill liberalizing pensions for members of Congress and congressional employes. Bricker voted for it. Burke voted against it.

SUMERSVILLE REVIVAL SET

Month of Decision?

March Economic Trends To Decide Moves by Ike

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—March, designated by President Eisenhower as an economic weather vane, was at hand today amid fresh reports of rising unemployment and a new drop in farm prices.

Eisenhower told a news conference over two weeks ago that his administration would go into action if March failed to bring an anticipated upturn in the nation's economic activity.

Called Readjustment

Administration spokesmen have insisted the country has been going through no more than a readjustment in the wake of the end of the Korean fighting. But some Democrats have contended the nation already is in a recession.

Just yesterday, the Senate-House Economic Committee said it is sure "any serious further recession can be avoided" but it advised "timely and courageous steps to stir business investment and consumer spending."

The committee, which has been studying the President's recent economic recommendations, suggested in an unprecedented unanimous report that the administration put off plans to replace the present farm program embodying rigid, high-level price supports for basic crops with a new support system based on flexible props.

The 11 committee members, both Republican and Democratic senators and representatives, said the change might "actually place the farm family in a worse position" in the months to come "when the threat to our economic stability is so generally recognized."

Farm Prices Down

Underlining this statement was a new report by the Agriculture Department, which said last night farm prices went down four-tenths of one per cent between mid-January and mid-February.

At just about the same time, the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security announced that joblessness among workers covered by unemployment insurance rose to 2,178,400 in the week ended Feb. 13. This was the biggest total since February 1950 when it reached 2,333,000.

Still another government report yesterday—by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics—said the cost of living crept upward last month to 115.2 per cent of the 1947-49 average, thus reaching the second highest plane in history.

The Congressional Economic Committee came out for a large part of the Eisenhower economic program, including proposals to broaden social security and unemployment compensation.

Sets Up Subcommittee

And to keep it abreast of day-to-day developments, it created a subcommittee that will check on employment, production and investment trends. The report said this watchdog group would "follow economic developments and the need for tax action on a day-to-day basis."

Among its recommendations was one for a "flexible tax policy to meet the needs of economic stability and growth."

The report pointed out that Eisenhower has mentioned the possibility of an emergency tax program, if unemployment continues to go up.

"If his step is necessary," the committee said, "it is expected that he (Eisenhower) will recommend relief for middle and lower income groups by reducing the income tax and by reducing excise tax rates."

It added that "some members of this committee are ready to urge these tax changes now." These were the six Democratic members.

Want Boost in Exemptions

Democrats in the House and Senate have been plugging for a boost in the individual income tax exemption from $600 to as much as $800 this year. They argue this is the quickest way to stimulate purchasing and, through this, production.

But the administration has stood fast against this approach. It is willing to go only as far as a revision of existing tax laws which, it is estimated, would yield $1,300,000,000 in tax savings the first year. No change in major tax rates is involved. An increase in the income tax exemption to $800 would cost the Treasury about 4½ billions a year.

The administration has said its program would benefit both individuals and business. And, as Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) put it after his House Ways and Means Committee had finished section-by-section consideration of the tax revision bill:

"Changed tax treatment for business will encourage investment and business expansion, thus creating new jobs and a higher standard of living."

Democrats have criticized this as the "trickle down" theory.

After several days of technical work, the revision bill probably will be sent to the House late next week.

Eisenhower Names Postmasters for 2 Vacancies in Area

James W. Overholt of Bucyrus and Edwin E. Naus of Upper Sandusky have been nominated by President Eisenhower for postmaster vacancies.

The nominations were sent to the Senate for confirmation.

Overholt was endorsed for the post now held by Acting Postmaster Cline Warnock at a Jan. 12 meeting of the Crawford County Republican Executive Committee in Bucyrus. Warnock had taken over the postmastership on a temporary basis June 1, but did not seek a permanent appointment. There has been no permanent postmaster in Bucyrus since 1951 when Carl Young retired.

Naus has been serving as acting postmaster at Upper Sandusky since April, 1953 when he was appointed by the postoffice department. Assistant Postmaster Gordon Shafer had been acting postmaster before Naus' appointment and after the retirement of Postmaster Charles U. Reade. Naus was endorsed by the Wyandot County Republican Executive Committee after passing the civil service examination.

Crawford County Ditch To Be Advertised Again

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Engineer E. A. Stetzer said here today it probably will be necessary for his office to advertise again for bids for construction of the A. E. Von Stein ditch in Cranberry Township.

Deadline for submission of bids for the project was Friday morning and no olds were received by county commissioners. Stetzer pointed out that specifications call for ditching more than the usual depth in certain sections and that most ditching equipment cannot excavate at a depth of greater than 66 inches.

The project consists of a main ditch and three branches.

PLEADS INNOCENT

Harry L. Eaches, 34, of 355 Lee St., was arrested at 1:40 p.m. Friday at the police station on an assault and battery warrant filed by Andy Stapleton who charged that the assault was committed on Feb. 20 at 351 Lee St. Eaches entered a not guilty plea this morning in Municipal Court and was released on $100 bond. His hearing was set for 10 a.m. on Wednesday.

Harding Closes Season With 75-68 Win Over Tiffin

Presidents Rally To Escape Cellar in Buckeye League

By JOHN SHORT

A Harding defensive setup which at times during the first half lapsed, tightened during the final two periods last night at the Harding gym and as a result the Presidents notched a 75 68 win over Tiffin Columbian

The Proxies had trailed throughout most of the first two frames when their defense was shredded by Bill Groman and Gene Smith who handled most of the Tiffin scoring punch Groman was effective on hooks and drive ins while Smith kept Harding off balance with his marksmanship from the outside

Grab Lead

Harding broke fast and jumped into an early lead after Ron Conroy dropped in a pair of fouls and a field goal but Smith connected on three fielders and Tiffin took its first lead 9 7 on the midway point Harding tied the count at 9 9 on a layup by Doug Bibler but the Columbians raced to a 20 16 edge at the quarter

Max Kaelber and Bob Hamor led the Harding attack in the second period which saw several bad passes by the Proxies converted into Tiffin scores Early in the period the winners deadlocked the score 22 22 but Dan Gossett kept his mates in front with a pair of charity throws The half ended with Harding on the short end o 35 32 count

The Harding cagers settled down in the third period after one bad pass and began whittling away at the deficit With five minutes and four seconds left in the third period Hamor dropped in a pair of fouls to knot the count at 40 all and Dave Schnelker regained the lead for the Proxies with a free throw seven seconds later Hamor hit another foul shot and Schnelker and Phil Carroll scored from the field before Gossett scored Tiffin's next point For the rest of the period Bibler Conroy and Hamor kept plugging away as Harding finished the period with a 55 50 edge

Carroll Leads Surge

Phil Carroll sparked the Proxy attack in the fourth period to preserve the margin and insure the win He scored 10 points mostly on bunny shots as the Tiffin defense collapsed against the fast breaking Proxies

With half the final period remaining Harding lost the services of Schnelker who had turned in one of his top rebounding performances of the season Max Kaelber came off the bench to shoulder the job and the Proxies retained control ofthe boards tained control of the boards

The clincher came with three minutes to go when Conroy netted a pair of field goals on breaks after Kaelber had pulled in rebounds They boosted the Proxies into a comfortable 71 61 edge and Harding shifted to a control type play

Conroy led the Harding attack again with 23 points for the night Bob Hamor dropped in 13 and Schnelker and Carroll each added 12 Eleven of Hamor's points came on 15 attempts from the foul line Groman dropped in 21 points for the losers but only five came in the last half after Harding's defensive comeback Smith had 16 and Gossett 13

Harding managed to take only 54 shots from the field and connected on 26 for a 46 per cent shooting average Schnelker popped in four of five attempts and Carroll hit on six of nine to lead the way Conroy collected seven of 18 From the foul mark of the Proxies dropped in 23 of 33 chances for 69 per cent

Beach Misses Win

The Harding reserves romped to a 59 34 win in the preliminary Coach Al Beach missed his charges victory He had volunteered to scout Mansfield in its game against Canton McKinley Harding meets Mansfield Tuesday night in sectional tourney play

The Vice Presidents racked up a 13 7 lead in the first quarter and held Tiffin to three points in the second to lead 30 10 at the start of the final half

Phil Carroll scored 12 to lead the Harding team Chet King was second with 11 Tiffin's Assenheimer led Tiffin with 13

In another preliminary game the Harding sophomores dumped a team composed of junior high school all stars 37-25 Bob Messner led the winners with 13 while Shingler was high for the losers with nine

The win last night gave Harding an escape from the Buckeye League cellar Both teams went into the game with 1 8 marks in league play The win boosted the Proxies' season mark to nine wins and 11 losses

Buckeyes Seek Third Straight Upset Decision

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—A relaxed Ohio State basketball team with nothing to lose but nine tacos on Big Ten leader Indiana tonight

The Buckeyes who have been disrupting the title chase of late hope to close their home season with another upset

Then a couple of nights later third place Minnesota got some of the same medicine

Now Indiana, hoping to clinch at least a tie for the championship and boasting the conference's top scorer in All America Don Schlundt gets its chance to cool off the hot shooting Bucks

For the home crowd it will be so long to Paul Eberle the most prolific scorer in Ohio State's basketball history The 6-4 center has rewritten most of the university's scoring records in three years as a varsity regular

And tonight he is expected to break his own single season total points mark of 477 He already has 473 Ebert holds the school's career record with 1 393 points in 64 games

Cincinnati Hands Duquesne Team First Whipping 66-52

NEW YORK (AP)—Duquesne's Dukes were primed for the kill when they walked into an ambush at the championship's halfway mark

The Blue Devils' fondest dreams could be summed up in Texas Tech's stunning 71-70 win over Texas Christian Saturday night

That one game single handedly knocked Oklahoma A&M, Duke, Kansas State, Duquesne, Wake Forest, Notre Dame, Eastern Kentucky, Bowling Green, Western Kentucky, Marquette, Cincinnati and Southern Methodist tumbled from the unbeaten ranks

Since they have been keeping records only a handful of teams have been able to go through an entire season undefeated But with 22 victories and only four to go before last night's game with Cincinnati the Dukes No 1 team in the nation were as good a bet as any to get by unscathed

But Cincinnati's sophomore five could lick the little fellows by a solid 66 52 defeat on the Dukes to leave only Kentucky among the nation's major unbeaten teams The Wildcats have won 22 play Auburn tonight and finish operations against Alabama Monday

Cincinnati's triumph over Duquesne wasn't even close The Dukes trailed all the way and were completely at the mercy of Cincinnati's possession game Earlier this season Duquesne had beaten George Smith's kids by 20 points

The Dukes play Dayton another tough customer tonight

Meanwhile Frank Selvy of Furman shattered the first big college scoring record when he dropped in eight free throws as his club whipped Davidson 105 91 Now he has 335 free throws surpassing the record of 332 set by Johnny O'Brien of Seattle last year

With Furman having played its last regular season game Selvy has the following to his credit in addition to the foul shooting

Total points this season—1 149 in 27 games for a 42 6 average

Career total 3—2 478 in 76 games for a 32 6 average

Season field goals—407

Career field goals—902

Career free throws—674

Oklahoma A and M the fifth ranking team in the Associated Press weekly poll also was the victim of an upset Kansas stopped the Aggies 66 59

The Southwest Conference race will go right down to the end Both Texas and Rice won last night to stay in the fight for first place The Longhorns defeated Arkansas 61 57 and the Owls beat off Texas Christian 72 65 Each has one game to play, Texas against Texas Christian and Rice against Southern Methodist

Colorado A and M won its first skyline championship in history by defeating Utah 70 66 and thus filled another berth in the NCAA post season tournament

In the Ivy League Cornell extended its first place margin with a 69 53 triumph over Brown The Big Red now has an 8 2 mark while Penn and Princeton are tied for second each with 8 3

In the Big Ten the heat will be on Indiana, the leader If the Hoosiers lose to Ohio State and Iowa licks Michigan State a tie for first place would ensue If the Hoosiers win, however they can

CLOSE CALL

WHEN Dan Erickson and his girl friend decided to take a short cut in their car across Wisconsin's frozen Lake Geneva, they didn't know they would set off a drama in which they escaped from an icy death as well as involving a diver, a tow truck and a row boat. Dan, approached a spot where the ice had broken and tried to swerve the car, but it skidded into the channel of cracked ice. As the car started to sink, Dan jumped free to solid ice, but he had to return to rescue his girl friend, who had been too frightened to leave. A professional diver was called in and he located the car, which had landed on its roof and slid down into 65 feet of water. A tow truck then picked up cables the diver had attached to the car and pulled it ashore. Dan will now take the long way home.

Modern Trailers Now Family Homes

By D G BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

More than two million families are now living in mobile homes—trailers You can buy a streamlined modern dwelling of this type complete with radiant heating picture windows indirect lighting, built-in television automatic garbage disposal and washing machine plus three rooms of furniture for about $6 000 or less

Because approximately 95 per cent of the owners of such homes use them for permanent dwellings the manufacturers' organization recently changed its name from the Trailer Coach Manufacturers Association to the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association

It seems that most of the buyers seldom travel They just plant their homes in a trailer park and stay put—even removing the wheels and setting up house on blocks

TODAY'S STREAMLINED trailers used more and more as permanent dwellings include many home conveniences such as the knotty pine paneled kitchen shown above Over two million families are now living in mobile homes

THESE HOMES are marvels at space saving Dinettes convert into double beds A lounge chair unfolds to from a dining table seating eight A corner cabinet becomes a table merely by an extension of the front and inserting leaves stored in a special compartment A desk expands into a 25 inch dining table with leaves stored in a top drawer Bottoms of large chairs are provided with storage compartments Beds convert into sofas

One model mobile home boasts five closets and 27 drawers Living rooms run about 8 by 18 or 20 feet

The average length of these homes today is 30 feet with some running 40 to 45 feet Kitchens include automatic dishwashers automatic garbage disposal units and automatic washing machines

BLOWER FANS distribute heat in winter and cool air in summer Fiber glass insulation double insulated floors and leak proof construction are standard features

You can even have a fireplace in a mobile home

Aluminum sheathes most mobile homes not only because of its combined lightness and strength but also because of its insulating quality This is making aluminum increasingly popular for roofing permanent houses

Since aluminum reflects up to 95 per cent of the radiant heat of the sun it is rated as keeping a home as much as 15 degrees cooler in summer This is especially important in connection with air conditioning

You'd think that aluminum being such a fast conductor of heat when used for cooking utensils would get pretty hot under the sun Fact is it stays cooler than dark colored roofing When the underside of the roof is adequately ventilated as any roof should be an aluminum roof really insulates

PROPER INSTALLATION is a must for aluminum roofing Sheets whether corrugated or in flat panels with V-crimped edges should be overlapped in the direction of the prevailing wind

Only aluminum nails fitted with neoprene washers should be used The nails are not driven in too tightly They are driven only until the washer flattens against the nail head and into the hole in the roofing

COPPER NAILS should never be used with aluminum to avoid electrochemical action Frank Nicholson president of the Nichols Wire and Aluminum Co of Davenport Ia tells us that virtually all complaints levelled against early aluminum roofs were due to misapplication and the lack of modern accessories

Complete and extensively illustrated instructions are provided by manufacturers of aluminum roofing About the only way you can go wrong as with any other building material or equipment is to fail to read instructions—a habit lots of people indulge in, to their sorrow

New Electrical Heating System Uses Cables Imbedded in Ceiling

A new method of radiant heating using an electric cable will be installed in two Marion County homes soon

Fast gaining popularity in the South the new system employs a network of cables in the ceiling They are laid before plastering The whole room is heated uniformly and almost invisibly the only visible installation being a thermostat

The new system which an electrician can install in an hour per room, costs half as much to put in as other types of radiant heating systems, its backers claim

More expensive to operate than gas the cable system's costs compare closely with fuel oil costs according to L E Jackson of the Van Atta Supply Co The system has no maintenance expense the only possible replacement being a thermostat, he said

Tests have shown that cables will outlast houses in which they are installed The cable made of nickel and copper alloy that can not rust operates at dishwater temperature

Other advantages of the cable system he cited are (1) Increased living area since furnace and radiator space is eliminated and (2) A cleaner source of heat

Electric cable heating is suitable only for new houses Jackson said To work effectively extra insulation care must be taken Costs of re-insulating old houses may be excessive Jackson said

A new house going up in Ashley is the first in this area to use the system Others are to be installed in a new house near Caledonia and one on Route 529 near Marion.

Fluorescent Lights Enhance Window

By The Associated Press

Beautifying the home is one of the best justifications for a home workshop. Proper tools and equipment enable the handyman to turn out many attractive details to enhance the appearance of his home.

A kitchen window valance with plant shelves is an interesting project of this type. The valance houses indirect fluorescent lighting and curtain tracks and forms a decorative frame for the window.

Construction of such a valance is virtually foolproof. It is easy to design one for any window size. The design shown here was worked out by the Homograf Co. with dimensions adjustable to fit any window. The over-all width is figured by adding 32 inches to the width of the window and the height is figured by adding 8 inches to the vertical measurement of the window opening.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

No doubt all country and suburban homeowners worry about keeping the house well painted, and many of them pay a round sum for having the job done. Few of them pay any attention to the essential preparation which should be done before a house is painted.

All wood houses start to shrink the moment the last nail is driven into the structure when it is being built. This shrinkage is perfectly normal and takes place in practically all of the wood used in building construction. Sometimes it takes three or four years for the lumber in a house to completely dry out and shrink to the proportions it will maintain from that time on.

As a result of this, a careful inspection will show hundreds of small openings and cracks in the exterior of a house. These will be found where clapboards meet the corner boards, where window and door frames are joined, where columns or posts are set on wood, cement floors or steps, and in a hundred other places where pieces of wood are joined together.

It is an indisputable fact that paint job is not properly done unless all of these small openings have been caulked with a good caulking compound, or filled with good linseed oil putty. Immediately, after the compound or putty is forced into an opening, it should be given a prime coat of paint and this should be permitted to dry before the final coat is applied.

New Secretary Named By Green Camp Lions

Showing of a motion picture on "Electricity" by Larry W. Larson of the Ohio Edison Co. highlighted the dinner meeting of the Green Camp Lions Club Tuesday.

In the board of directors meeting which followed, Edwin Schwaderer was elected secretary to fill the unexpired term of G. W. Sorreles, who resigned because of illness. Plans for a ladies' night program in April were discussed. The constitutional provision of dismissal for missing four consecutive meetings without excuse will be rigidly adhered to, the board president, John H. Mills, reported.

A nursery for pre-school children, under the direction of Mrs. Steve McKirgan will be held, starting at 2:30 p.m. for the convenience of mothers.

Mayor Emery Murphy of Mt. Gilead has issued an official proclamation recognizing the day.

Recreation Board At Mt. Gilead Elects Officers for Year

MT. GILEAD — C. J. Calhoun was named chairman of the Mt. Gilead village recreation board at their reorganization meeting held this week. Richard Behrend was named secretary of the group.

Calhoun, Behrend and Councilman Richard Pittman are new members of the board appointed this year. They replace Bob Gerhardt, Lloyd Harris and Paul Smith on the board.

The board discussed the possibility of raising additional money for the paving and marking of two tennis courts at the recreation center early this summer. A total of $600, raised through projects of the Mt. Gilead Kiwanis Club, is now available. Approximately $1,400 needs to be raised to complete the project, according to Calhoun.

One application for manager of the recreation center and pool this summer was received by the board, but no action was taken at the meeting. Additional applications are expected to be received and acted on at future meetings.

State's Retail Dollar Volume Sales Hit Peak

'53 Total Topped '52 Record by 7 Per Cent, Researchers Report

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University Bureau of Business Research says Ohio's retail sales last year reached a record peak in dollar volume "7 per cent above the previous peak in 1952 and 38 per cent above the average of the years 1947-49."

The bureau reports these figures in the latest issue of the "Ohio Retail Annalist." The publication estimates "aggregate" dollar sales of Ohio retailers in 1953 at $10,100,000,000. The estimate is based on the 1948 U.S. retail business census and monthly business "index" figures showing increases since that time.

The business making the best gains in 1953 was the automobile trade.

Says Editor James C. Yocum:

"Automobile retailers led all others in percentage gain in dollar volume increase from 1952. 1953 was the second highest in history in automobile production, and dealers' sales of new cars were at correspondingly high levels."

Retail sales in other durable goods "showed only moderate increases." Household appliances showed a two per cent decrease from 1952.

Increases ranged from 1 to 6 per cent in all other kinds of business.

By cities, retail trade increased 1 to 4 per cent in Canton, Akron and Toledo; 9 or 10 per cent in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown and Columbus and 16 per cent in Dayton. In Chillicothe and Portsmouth, the atomic plant boom-area, retail sales were up 30 and 22 per cent respectively over 1952

Burke Launches Inquiry Into GIs' Mail Complaint

WASHINGTON (AP)—When you're an Ohio airman 5,000 miles from home, mail call means a lot to your morale.

Airman 3 C. Everett W. Moriarty of Bolivar, so wrote Sen. Burke (D-Ohio) from the island of Guam.

The government, said Moriarty, has reduced mail deliveries in most of the island from five times a week to twice a week.

The reason, he said, is the mail contract has been shifted from the Military Air Transport Service to Pan American Airways. He added he thought it would be cheaper to ship by MATS.

Burke asked Postmaster Summerfield to look into this. He also inquired why the mail service was taken from the military.

3 KILLED IN CRASH

HEBRON, Ohio (AP)—John Wharton, 53, of Kirkersville; his wife, Neva, 48; and William E. Wyckoff, 27, of Johnstown, were killed last night when two cars crashed on U.S. 40 a half-mile west of here. Robert James Gill, 17, of Moxahala was injured critically.

Sumatra, with an area of 182,860 square miles, has a population of about 11 million people.

House Has Useful Attic

DESIGNED FOR THE TREND toward larger homes, this house with three bedrooms and two baths also has an expansion attic to accommodate two additional bedrooms and another bathroom. An alternative terrace or den behind the garage is an attractive feature. Plan 7303 by Herman H. York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N.Y., this house covers 1,575 square feet without garage. Paul Axelrod and Jack Lazar built and sold a house from this plan at Sherwood Gardens, Westbury, N.Y., for $26,500 on a 100 by 100 plot.

Inmates of Ohio Pen Suspected Of Making Duplicate Auto Tags

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Officials in two states turned suspiciously toward Ohio Penitentiary today while trying to learn how a dump truck which has never been east of Ohio's Maumee River could collect a traffic ticket in New York.

The parking ticket — mailed to Adams Twp. trustees in Ohio's Lucas County — kicked up a furor which resulted in three other governmental employes in the Toledo area pointing out they had received unwarranted tickets from New York.

Harry Freiberg, Lucas County prosecutor, speculated prisoners who make Ohio's license plates may have stamped out a few duplicates. And Saul Allen, director of New York City's Traffic Summons Control Bureau, said Freiberg might be right.

One man who got a parking ticket was Ralph B. Beck, a Lucas County carpenter who hasn't been to New York since 1945.

Allen said his bureau had been given Beck's name as the owner of a 1941 Plymouth with Ohio license 2223C. A checkup, he added, showed a New York City cop had attached a summons Aug. 31 to a green DeSoto sedan parked on a bus stop.

Freiberg also speculated the tickets might have been sent illegally by someone in New York's magistrates' court. But Allen declared that was "absolutely impossible." He pointed out his bureau mails about half a million citations yearly and no one would "know where and when to look" for a return payment of a fine.

CONVICTED OF MURDER

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gordon Prets, 69-year-old Dayton recluse who took his first trip into town in 22 years after being arrested last fall, last night was convicted of second degree murder in the shooting of William C. Smith.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: I have a basementless house with wood flooring which sets about three feet above the ground on a concrete block foundation. What kind of insulation would you suggest to make this floor more comfortable?

A: Place a moisture proof blanket or batt type of insulation between the floor joists. The vapor-proof covering should be placed against the underside of the floorboards. Then, in addition to this, it might be worthwhile to keep out dampness by fastening sheets of aluminum foil on the edges of the joists, making about an inch overlap. Or, you can cover the ground with the same material or a moistureproof asphalt paper, overlapping the sheets about six inches. The sheets should also be lapped onto the wall. Seal all joints with an asphalt roof cement.

Q: Will it be necessary to put another flooring over the present porch floor before putting down asphalt tile? The porch is enclosed but not heated.

A: I presume your porch, like most of the others, has only a single thickness of wood flooring. If so, it is necessary to put down plywood or a hard fiberboard underlay as the base for asphalt tile. If by chance there is a double flooring and the surface is level, the underlayment will not be necessary.

Q: Please let me know what I can do to prevent my three scatter rugs from sliding in all directions whenever we step on them. The backs seem to be rubberized, but evidently the coating has dried out.

A: It is possible that the underside of each rug has picked up a quantity of dust, thus making the rubber coating ineffective. Try scrubbing the surfaces with a thick suds of a mild soap, wipe off the soap with damp cloths and allow to dry thoroughly. If the rugs still skid, you can coat them with a nonskid rubber preparation on sale at the housewares sections at large department stores, also shops handling carpeting and rugs. Plastic netting, with a one-inch mesh, which you can cut according to any size or shape, and placed under the rugs is also very effective.

Q: My cellar always has a smelly odor and there are signs of dampness. It is kept clean and the windows are left open to let in the sunlight but the odor persists. Can you suggest what could be done

A: If there is a floor drain in the cellar the trap may be dry and the odor of sewer gas might be coming through. Pour plenty of water down the drain. A musty odor can be eliminated by washing down the walls and floor with a mildewproofing solution. This preparation is sold by housewares sections of department stores, also hardware dealers. After the walls have been washed down, the dampness can be minimized by coating the walls with a damp-proof cement-base coating that comes in powder form. Masonry materials dealers sell it.

State Is Optimistic Over Collection of Truckers Axle Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state tax department Friday expressed optimism over collection of Ohio's controversial axle-mile tax on trucks with three or more axles.

Stanley J. Bowers, tax commissioner, said collections for the first quarter now total $2,682,992 and refunds have amounted to $66,000.

His department also has sent out $227,000 in delinquency assessments against truckers who filed returns but did not pay the tax. The department is working on a long list of names of truckers who neither filed returns nor paid the tax.

Material, Munitions Help French

American Aid Prevents Red Victory in Indochina

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—"If it hadn't been for American aid, the Indochina war would have been lost three years ago."

This statement was made by a responsible American official here recently. He would have had little difficulty getting the French and the Indochinese to agree.

Since 1951 the United States has been pouring an ever-swelling torrent of money, material and munitions into Indochina to help hold back the hordes of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh.

400 Shiploads

By last Jan. 31 400 American or French ships sailing from San Francisco had disgorged in Indochina's ports a veritable mountain of the weapons, explosives, guns, airplanes, ships and other material required for modern warfare. The list:

260 million rounds of small arms ammunition.

21,000 transport vehicles and trailers.

1,400 combat vehicles.

360 military aircraft.

396 naval vessels.

17,000 radio sets.

175,000 small arms and automatic weapons.

Huge amounts of mines, rockets, mortar and artillery shells, hospital supplies, engineering and technical equipment.

Billion Dollar Cost

In all, the American taxpayer will pay nearly a billion dollars this year to help fight a war some 10,000 miles from his own shores. He will foot three-fifths of the money cost of a fight whose causes and motives remain even more obscure to him than did the battle for Korea.

But the U.S. government feels it is getting its money's worth. It sees these alternatives: the loss of Southeast Asia to world communism, or personal involvement of more Americans in another Korean-type war.

While the United States is aiding the French and the established governments of Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos on the one hand, the Chinese Communists are doing the same for Communist Ho Chi Minh. Over about 18 highway routes the Reds from safe bases along the border are shuttling an average of some 3,000 tons of war material a month to the Vietminh. Without this kind of propping up, they too would have collapsed long ago.

Though American aid is broken down into military and technical programs, all of it is channeled into one stream—a massive war effort which may subdue the Vietminh in a war now in its eighth year.

Breakdown of Goods

Four hundred million dollars of the near-billion America has alloted to Indochina for 1954 goes to purchase arms and munitions. Of the rest, 385 millions go for "soft" goods—uniforms, food and other services; 25 millions for economic, technical and refugee aid; 30 millions for harbor improvements, roads, reservoirs and other projects which are militarily important now but can be converted to civilian use.

The American Military Advisory Assistance Group (MAAG) handles the huge supply job. It is housed in a former Japanese brothel of neo-classic design in the nearby Chinese city of Cholon. Its staff of some 100 officers and men is headed by Maj. Gen. John Trapnell, lean West Pointer who survived the Bataan death march, two sinkings of Japanese death ships and three years in a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp.

A sport-loving 51-year-old cavalryman who turned paratrooper—he has more than 90 jumps to his credit—Trapnell won the Distinguished Service Medal by personally setting fire to a tank which blew up a bridge the Japanese wanted very much to cross.

Trapnell is due to wind up a two-year tour here in a few months. Already there is much talk of replacing him with Lt. Gen. John W. O'Daniel.

Called Catastrophic

Americans in the know here say that Trapnell's departure would be little short of catastrophic. For one thing, he is tremendously popular with Gen. Henri Navarre, the French commander in chief. For another, he is getting a tough job done fast and efficiently.

Big, blunt "Iron Mike" O'Daniel would be likely to run into difficulties with the French chiefly because he has been touted as a man who could train Viet Nam troops. Gen. Navarre said the other day that for an American to train the Vietnamese was "unthinkable." That is a job Navarre has cut out for himself.

The American mission so far has been confined almost entirely to aid, not training.

The 200 air technicians in Indochina are an exception. They will teach French ground crews the skill needed to maintain 10 U.S. B28 light bombers America recently has provided. In three to four months they will pull out.

Workbench in Garage Saves on Space

By The Associated Press

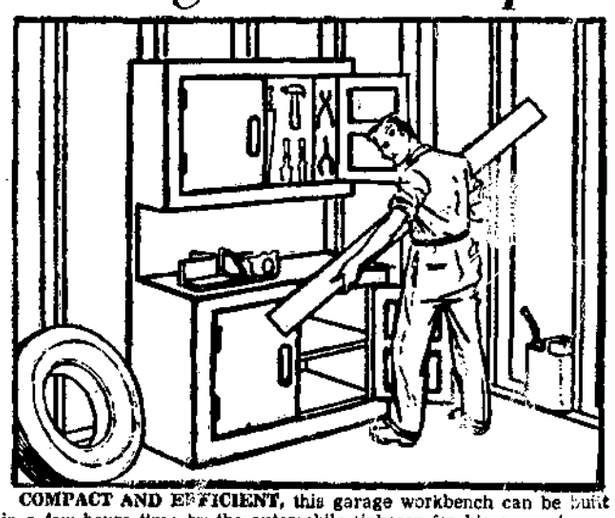
Indispensable for the automobile tinkerer is a narrow, lightweight workbench in his garage. It's easy to build such a bench, with a wall-hung tool board, at the end or at one side of your garage.

Constructed on a frame of 2 by 2-inch and 2 by 4-inch lumber, this workbench is 4 feet long, has a working surface 2 feet wide and is 34 inches high.

Six pieces of 2 by 4s form the legs. The working surface has a 3-inch overhang on the front. Bracing the legs under the top and also at a distance of 3½ inches from the floor and 2 by 2s. Framing a shelf midway between the floor and working surface are 1 by 2s.

Over the upper 2 by 2 framework, the home craftsman lays 1 by 6-inch tongued and grooved boards. A working surface of ¼-inch tempered hardboard is placed over this to provide resistance to wear. This same pressed wood material is used for the sides of the bench and for the cabinet doors, which are constructed over a simple frame of 1 by 2-inch lumber.

Both the center shelf and a lower one laid on the 2 by 2 braces are sawed from ¼-inch tempered hardboard.



COMPACT AND EFFICIENT, this garage workbench can be built in a few hours time by the automobile tinkerer for his convenience.

Sides of the wall-hung tool board are formed with 1 by 6-inch lumber. The doors, paneled in hardboard, join in the center. The height of the tool board is 2 feet, 8 inches. Tool holders, made of dowels or shaped pieces of wood, are screwed to the board from the back before it is attached to the wall.

(A working drawing for the construction of this workbench can be had without charge by writing to the Home Service Bureau, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., asking for Plan AE-250.)

Reading Circle Books Arrive At City Library

New books recommended for reading by the State Teachers Reading Circle are on the shelves of the Marion public library, it was announced today by Miss Helen Kramer, librarian.

The list takes the reader into history, nature, education and other fields with such interesting titles as "A History of Ohio," by Roseboom and Weisenburger, "Mary Lincoln," by Ruth Painter Randall, "Until Victory: Horace Mann and Mary Peabody," by Louise Tharp, and many others.

Authors of the Ohio history are natives of the state and both members of the faculty of Ohio State University. An entirely new picture of Mary Todd Lincoln and her marriage is told in the Randall story. The biography of a marriage, that of Horace Mann and Mary Peabody, tells of the remarkable lawyer from Dedham who was destined to become the guiding spirit of educational reform throughout the world.

Other books are: "Magic Fire," Bertita Harding; "The Unconquered," Ben Ames Williams; "Desiree," Annemarie Selinko; "The Silent World," Cousteau and Dumas; "The Greatest Faith Ever Known," Fulton and Armstrong A. Oursler; "Cres Delahanty," Jessamyn West; "Period Piece," Gwen Raverat; "Time and Time Again," James Hilton; "Let's Talk Sense About Our Schools," Paul Woodring; "The Sojourner," Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings; "The Troubled Mind," Beulah C. Bosselman; "Roger Williams," Perry Miller; "The Bridges at Toko-ri," James A. Michener; "A Critical History of Children's Literature," Cornelia Meigs; "The Wind in the Willows," Kenneth Grahame and "Lovejoy's College Guide."

"Desiree," is the story of Desiree Clary of Marseilles whose life was indirectly woven with that of Napoleon; the Ben Ames Williams story has as its setting New Orleans where and when the old French and Spanish aristocracy was outnumbered by an influx of gamblers, carpetbaggers, river pirates and desperadoes.

A Sermonette

By REV FREDERICK W LEECH
Rector of St Paul s Episcopal Church

'Be ye therefore perfect as your Father in heaven is perfect St Matt 5 48

How good must you be before you can be a Christian? Must you be a saint or can sinners become Church members? This is a problem about which there is much misunderstanding in the minds of many people

Counscience often tells us we are to be perfect in all things While in one sense this is true in another sense this idea leads many people into unhappy error J B Phillips in his book 'Your God Is Too Small' says Of all the false gods there is prooably no greater nuisance in the spiritual world than the God of 100 per cent Ths is the idea of God that makes some people feel that they must be 100 per cent absolutely perfect before they can have anything to do with God or with the Church It is a nuisance because it is plausible It sounds true It can be argued that since God is perfection and since He asks our complete loyalty then the only way we can serve and please Him is to set up absolute 00 per cent standards of perfection and follow them Jesus said, Be ye perfect

THIS 100 per cent idea has always been with mankind The Pharisees of Jesus day were 100 per centers They set up a scale of standards and thought they fulfilled them perfectly You will recall though that Jesus had a different idea about the Pharisees He called them whited sepulchres those who washed only the outside of the cup

The 100 per cent approach to religion is a menace it has caused many mental and nervous breakdowns it is possible of such great misinterpretation Possibly the least harm it does is to take the joy and spontaneity out of the lives of many who felt that Christianity should be a life of perfect freedom and has made it instead of a life of anxious slavery

Not everyone finds the God of 100 per cent an impossible tyrant An immature extravert may talk glibly of being 100 per cent perfect What he means by 100 per cent is just as good as he knows how to be and that is as different matter from God s perfection

A FINE AND conscientious person sensitive and imaginative who has some idea of the magnitude of God s perfection often finds 100 per cent truly terrifying Such a person realizes the impossibility of such a standard So the more he thinks this is God s demand the more guilty and despairing he becomes for there is no way out He cannot reduce his standard and betray his insight and the God who might help him is the wrong one he imagines the source of the terrific impossible demands So some people grow angry at God others have breakdowns Tragically the false 100 per cent absolute perfection idea is generally introduced into the mind of a sensitive person often a youngster by some older unimaginative, immature insensitive person who ought to know better and who actually cannot realize the harm he does to others but thinks he is doing good

WHAT IS THE answer? Jesus said Learn of Me Christianity is not a performance but a way of life a learning experience Learning implies growth the making and correcting of mistakes To learn does not mean that we have already arrived but that we are on the way The idea of 100 per cent immediately enforceable absolutes forgets St Paul who after many years in the faith said that he pressed toward the mark not as though he had already attained it or were already perfect

Are you saved" some Christians will ask and give the impression that they feel they are perfect None but the very smug insensitive unimaginative and utterly conceited could claim to be perfect in surrender to God s love In the parable the father was much interested in the prodigal son even though the son spiritual life was at a very low ebb

TRULY GOD IS perfection but we get off the track in our thinking make God too small when we make Him a perfectionist, inevitably demanding ultimate perfection of performance every moment before He will have anything to do with us If that were true He surely would have wiped out the human race long ago

If you think to yourself I m not good enough to go to church I d like to try to learn to be a Christian but can t seem to do it then you are one the church wants you are one God wants But if you think we ought to weight our petty human merits and achievements on the scales beside God s perfection then no one is ever good enough to go to church Jesus did not establish the church for good people but for sinners those who knew they were sinners and who wanted to try to learn to do something about it

GOD IS PERFECTION But He does not demand immediate perfection of performance from us immediately What He would like of us is a reflection of His children in a sincere desire to reflect our own Him perfection no matter how far short of it we may fall

When Jesus said Be ye perfect He was speaking to God s followers Be perfect as your Father in heaven is perfect in loving This is God s great request of us We strive to learn to love each other all mankind as He loves us The Lenten observances of our churches with extra services and activities increase our opportunities to learn of God and His love for increase our opportunities to show our love toward our families and our fellowmen We shall probably never attain to perfection in love in this life God knows this better than we do but He wants us to be ever pressing on toward it — toward the high calling of God in Jesus Christ our Lord who loved us so much that He gave Himself for us

Marion Baptist Group Plans Easter Institute

An Easter Institute sponsored by the Child ens Department of the Marion Baptist Association will be held Sunday afternoon at the Prospect Baptist Church The session will begin at 2 30 with Mrs Kenneth Johnston director of children s work of the association presiding Parents of small children and teachers of the Nursery Kindergarten Primary and Junior Departments of church schools are included in this training clinic The purpose will be to give instruction to parents and teachers of children in the best methods of presenting the Easter story The secure leaders will be Mrs I B Hillosky of Marion and Miss Carol Jean Sutler of Granville director of children s work of the Department of Christian Education of the Ohio Baptist Convention

FINE PRINT

MURFREESBORO Tenn (UP) —City officials here reminded a visitor to City Hall who complained the front door would not open—always to read the fine print Under a huge push sign is another word in small letters—hard

Privileged Classes Get 'Monopoly' on Church, Is Charge

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—A group of Methodist leaders say the privileged classes support of labor and the people in need

A section of the first Methodist Conference on Urban Life in America presided over by Bishop Charles W Brashares of the Chicago area and F Gerald Ensley of Des Moines Iowa, a conference report said

The Pilgrim Christian Methodism in particular have developed an effective partnership with labor The privileged class seems to enjoy a monopoly on the gospel

Our churches have some tall explaining to do in their buildings in the main the more privileged classes prevail

The Methodist church closest to the largest manufacturing plant in town would be composed of a membership the smallest part of which consist of the working class (The factory was not identified)

The report called the labor field one of the most fruitful fields for an evangelistic revival

Pumps Will Battle Hurricane Damage In Florida Swamp

NEW YORK (UP) — Pumps are the latest weapons in man's annual battle against hurricanes.

The U. S. Engineering Corps is planning to use six hugh pumps, the largest ever built, to maintain the water level of the 5,000,000-acre Florida Everglades and so prevent vast flood damage when hurricanes hit.

The pumps have a pumping capacity of 360,000 gallons each — more than twice the normal flow of the Mississippi River. When a hurricane threatens they'll pump, in a matter of hours, enough water from a spider web of drainage canals and ditches to keep water from piling up and flooding nearby areas.

The Everglades are the world's largest "swamp." When they overflow they take a tremendous toll in lives lost and property damage. In the 1928 hurricane more than 1,000 people lost their lives. Property damage ran to millions of dollars.

In addition to flood control, the huge new pumps also will prevent salt water seepage and insure proper irrigation of Lake Okeechobee area. This will permit thousands of acres of fertile Florida farm land to be reclaimed, according to Fairbanks-Morse Engineers The pumps, to be installed near Belle Glade, will be powered by diesal engines, to eliminate the danger of power failures when hurricanes strike.

Advice Given on Getting Birds To Accept Homes

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP) — Prof. Harry Hann of the zoology department at the University of Michigan has issued a report which might help bird lovers attract birds into raising families on their property. His report includes these do's and don'ts:

Don't build just a bird house; build it for a specific kind of bird; don't make the entrance too large; don't use tin cans or metal in construction don't leave last year's nest in the box; do hang the box away from foliage so birds can spot it; do drill holes in the bottom so water can drain out, and do make sure the bird house faces away from prevailing winds.

Hann also recommended that bird houses be built from such soft woods as pine or spruce, because they don't split when nails are used. It isn't necessary to add a perch, but if it is done, straight perches at right angles are not as good as small twigs nailed flat to the box, he said.

Marion Reserves To Be Told of Mobilization Plan

Approximately 200 Marion County veterans will be offered the choice of accepting mobilization assignments or taking an active role in the Army Reserve or the National Guard in a series of four meetings to be held in Mansfield and Marion starting Monday night

Captain George E. Williams officer in charge of the Mansfield Army Reserve Center, announced today two special mobilization assignment teams from headquarters of the Ohio Military District at Columbus will conduct special "information sessions' for these men

THE TEAM MEMBERS will explain the new Department of the Army mobilization plan which calls for the assignment of ooligated Army reservists to military jobs they would fill immediately with active Army units, reserve units, or the Ohio National Guard in the event of national emergency

The affected reservists have been invited by postcard to appear at each of the mobilization assignment meetings which will be held at 7 30 p m , Monday and Tuesday in Mansfield, and Wednesday and Thursday in Marion

The meetings here will be at the Marion Engineer Depot

'To those obligated reservists who have been invited, I cannot stress too strongly the importance of attending these sessions" declared Capt Williams 'We want to give local reservists enough information about the mobilization assignment plan to enable them to protect their rights"

CAPT. WILLIAMS explained that only obligated reservists who are not now taking an active part in the Army Reserve training program will be effected by the new plan

Department of the Army has explained that the primary objective of the mobilization assignment plan is 'to accomplish prior to any given M-Day the administration necessary for a selective recall program to include designation of fillers and replacements for the active Army"

Ohio Military District officials have already requested permission to adopt the plan in its entirety in Ohio, Capt Williams said The mobilization assignment plan is currently undergoing a six-month test in one state of each continental U S Army In the seven state Second Army area, of which Ohio is a part Pennsylvania Military District has been selected as the testing agency

Local reservists attending next week's sessions will be asked to indicate whether they prefer to join an active Army Reserve unit or the Ohio National Guard, or prefer to accept mobilization assignments During the meetings, which are not expected to last longer than one hour, representatives of each of the 12 Army Reserve units which are under the jurisdiction of the Mansfield Army Reserve Center will be available to answer questions concerning their units.

THOSE MEN INVITED to the sessions will also be reminded that only through participating actively in reserve component training for three years can an eight-year reservist be transferred to the standby reserve Otherwise he remains in the ready reserve throughout his six-year obligation remaining after transfer from active military service.

As a ready reservist, the individual is subject to recall in an emergency declared by the President The standby reservist, however, is subject to recall only in an emergency declared by Congress, which ordinarily would be a formal declaration of war

Capt Williams pointed out that four out of five Army reservists called to active duty during the Korean War were not members of active reserve units Vulnerability to recall is also lessened by becoming a member of an active reserve unit he declared, since members of units will not be called to active duty individually

The Mansfield Army Reserve Center is charged with active Army assistance to the training recruiting and administration of Army Reserve units in Richland Marion, Knox Morrow, Huron, Wyandot Crawford and Ashland counties

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Meet a Trying Situation

I sat one day in the office of the owner of a great store. Filled with splended merchandise this store justifies its fine reputation.

DR. PEALE

And the history of the man who built it is the romantic old American story. I asked him to tell me what he thought were the reasons for his accomplishments, starting with literally nothing and achieving such outstanding results.

He thought for only a moment. Then he said: "God, my wife Helen, America and hard work. That's it in a nutshell."

He went on to illustrate the points he had made by telling me that he had come to that city with "25 cents in my pocket and my bride by my side." Both of them put in long hours of hard work and, in a few years, in partnership with another man, were able to open a shop of their own. Unfortunately, the partnership didn't work out, circumstances made things even worse, and eventually they lost the store.

"I FOUND MYSELF on the city once more," he told me. "But this time I was a little ahead of the game. I had a thousand dollars left, the same wife, more experience, faith in God, myself, and in these United States. I just started in and went to work again.

"There is a passage in the Bible," he continued, "that helped me no end in that trying situation. It is, 'In your patience possess ye your souls.' If you get a lot of faith, some real spiritual experience and enough understanding so that you don't get upset or lose your head, and if you practice patience and keep up your courage, and put your mind in God, you can solve any situation."

THIS MAN then gave me the phrase I use as the theme of this column. "I discovered," he said, "that you can find a happy outcome to any trying situation, provided you go at it in the right way." What he said and the way he said it fascinated me and has been in my mind ever since. So many people come to me about various difficulties in which they find themselves and they ask, "What is the right way to meet a trying situation?"

The first thing is to hold in mind the conviction that there can be and will be a happy outcome to every trying situation, even yours. Believe that there are creative values in any trying set of circumstances. It may sound trite, but it's true that, "Every cloud has a silver lining," if you believe it and look for it. It is all too easy to concentrate on the darkness and gloom.

But the wise thing is to search, hopefully in the shadows for any possible gleam of light that may be there. I have said this many times, and I say it again now: If you will look with a positive, open - eyed, optimistic approach into any situation, you will find a chink of light; you will find hopeful possibilities.

THE SECOND POINT is simply to do what you think is the right thing to do. You can never go wrong doing right. No one ever has. You only get wrong results when you do wrong things. So in a trying situation don't make the mistake of doing a wrong thing, and to know what is right practice calmness and pray, then be honest with yourself and you will get the right answer. "In your patience, possess ye your souls."

And that leads to the third rule. When you get into a situation that is trying, baffling, bewildering and discouraging, ask for God's guidance. Ask God to show you what to do and how to do it. Then think and study and work hard. In other words, do your best and God will do His best, and what do you need more than that. This is the effective way to meet a trying situation.

Previews of the Coming Attractions at the Local Theaters

Murder Mystery Based on Poe Tale Scheduled at Ohio

"Phantom of the Rue Morgue," in 3-D and color, opens at midnight tonight at the Ohio Theater and will play through Wednesday. Based on a shocking murder mystery by Edgar Allan Poe, the film stars Karl Malden, Claude Dauphin, Patricia Medina and Steve Forrest.

The picture concerns the brutal murders that shocked and terrified the citizens of Paris at the turn of the century. The victims of the gargantuan phantom were all beautiful, young women and the few clues indicated to the police that the killer possessed the strength of a raging beast and the cunning of a madman.

It is not until the final scenes that the mystery is solved after a harrowing rooftop chase.

Billed for Thursday through Saturday is a double feature, "Public Enemy" and "Little Caesar." Both are re-releases. The former stars James Cagney with Jean Harlow and Joan Blondell, and heading the cast in the latter is Edward G. Robinson with Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

"Public Enemey" is the story of Tom Powers, a good guy gone bad. He shoots his way to the top of the criminal world, taking all the spoils of such a life with him.

In "Little Caesar" is depicted the life of the toughest racketeer of them all. It traces his career in his infamous rise to the position of kingpin of the rackets. His downfall is heralded by a series of events involving the girl he loves and his most trusted henchman.

THE "PHANTOM OF THE RUE MORGUE" strikes fear into the heart of Dolores Dorn, one of its hapless victims, in the dramatization of the Edgar Allan Poe thriller. In 3-D, it opens tonight at the Ohio Theater and will play through Wednesday.

'Knights of Round Table' Now Playing At Palace Theater

"Knights of the Round Table," in Cinemascope and starring Robert Taylor, Ava Gardner and Mel Ferrer, is the current attraction through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

The film tells the story of King Arthur and the gallant knights who joined him in fighting to free England from its feudal chieftains. Also told is the story of the ill-fated romance between Lancelot and Guinevere, who must put their love aside when Guinevere becomes King Arthur's queen.

It is the love affair which is used as a pretext by Arthur's greatest enemy, Modred, to stir up rebellion and throw England into a turmoil of warfare. But in the end, Lancelot and Guinevere are vindicated, Lancelot slays Modred, and Arthur's dream of a peaceful, united kingdom is realized.

Starting Wednesday will be "The Glenn Miller Story," technicolor production of the great bandleader's life story. James Stewart is starred in the title role with June Allyson portraying his wife.

Essentially a love story, it tells of Glenn's tough years and his good years and also of exciting experiences during World War II, which eventually took his life, at the peak of his fabulous success.

Nine of the Miller all-time great recordings are presented in the picture.

Galion Traffic Council Makes 4 Suggestions

GALION — Four recommendations to City Council, and one to the Service Director, were made by Galion's new Traffic Commission at its first meeting Friday afternoon at the city building with Mayor Francis C Schalip presiding

The commission recently was set up by Mayor Schalip when he appointed four citizens to serve with four city officials and the mayor as chairman.

Recommendations to go to Council are (1) To install parking meters on S Market St between Walnut and Atwood Sts and also on Walnut St, one half block east and one-half block west of the S Market St intersection

(2) To enlarge street intersections in several sections of the city because the fire department has difficulty at present in getting around corners One of these is at S Union St and Grove Ave The suggested method would be to cut back the curb and round it

(3) To limit parking on the Township Rd from Cemco Industries to the Winchester Rd to one side of the road

The fourth recommendation will be made to the service director This is to move the traffic light on Harding Way E ist from Second Ave to First Ave in anticipation of re-routing traffic from the Perfection Steel Body Co over to Smith St and then up First Ave This would eliminate the Murray St hazard which brings traffic out at the Erie Railroad crossing almost at a right angle

It was decided that meetings will be held once a month if needed Mayor Schalip named Walter Goshorn to serve as secretary Other members present were Charles McGough Ross Ritchey Grace Thomas, Captain W E Schnegelsberger of the police department Police Chief Morris Bowers Fire Chief John Durtschi and Mayor Schalip Service director Floyd Steffee was unable to be present

EDC Threatened

Rearmament Split Snarls American-British Policy

LONDON (AP) — American and British policy has suffered a setback from the split within Britain's socialistic Labor party over the rearmament of West Germany

Even if only temporary the reverse raises the threat the West may dissipate a public opinion advantage gained from the Russians' adamant position at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Berlin

Generally, West European Socialists have opposed the idea of a West German military contingent in a European Army (EDC) Their opposition particularly France has delayed the ratification of EDC And EDC represents a cornerstone of United States and British policy for the defense of West Europe

Britain's Labor party is regarded as a senior and honored body by Socialists on the continent Had Laborites here wholeheartedly backed a West German military contribution to EDC their example might have influenced their colleagues in France Italy the Low Countries, and in West Germany itself

But British Laborites split almost exactly down the middle

A Labor delegation favorable to EDC will discuss the question with continental Socialists at meetings in Brussels this weekend But probably the influence of the British deputation has been frittered away

Feuding Three Years

Though the Laborites have been feuding three years the emphasis heretofore has been on personalities The party moderates who still control the organization follow the leadership of former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Herbert Morrison, while the leftwing has clustered behind Aneurin Bevan

But the German rearmament fight was one of principle At a caucus last Tuesday night of Labor members of Parliament the Bevanites gained 104 votes against German rearmament—only nine short of the total polled by the moderates Up to now Bevan's strength has been reckoned between 40 and 60

Bevan kept quiet during the caucus Harold Wilson his chief lieutenant, made the fight for the leftwingers in the smoke laden room

During the two-day debate that followed in the House of Commons the positions of the two factions became clear

Wanted One More Try

Attlee and the moderates had held for some time that, before guns actually were given to the West Germans the Western powers should make one more effort to reach an understanding with Russia That was the position taken by the party conference at Margate last Fall

Now in Attlee's view Berlin was that one last shot—and the Russians refused to make any concessions Therefore there was nothing left but to go ahead with EDC

His position is almost exactly that of Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government

Bishop To Talk on TV

Television viewers of Marion will be able to receive the fifth annual Lenten message of Bishop Hazen G Werner of the Ohio Area Methodist Church on Sunday at 1 30 p m on WLW C Channel 4 The telecast on a four station network has been arranged in addition to the radio broadcast on a 12 station hookup which will be heard at 5 p m Theme of Bishop Werner's message will be 'High Fidelity and Our Christian Witness' Music will be by the choir of Trinity Methodist Church at Youngstown

WYANDOT CATTLEMEN MEET

UPPER SANDUSKY —At a recent meeting of the Wyandot County Beef Cattle Association the subject of Beef Cattle Outlook was discussed by John Bricker manager of the Cleveland Producers Livestock Cooperative W W Wharton Associate County Agricultural Agent announced that the association is planning a beef cattle tour on March 31

Gas Increase Granted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tennessee Gas Transmission Co of Houston Tex which supplies gas to about 36 cities and towns in Ohio and eight other states has been granted an increase in wholesale natural gas rates of $4 767 800 a year The company had asked the Federal Power Commission for a $6 510 100 increase

Sucker Statistics

Labor Secretary Mitchell finally has pinned down one of the sucker statistics being tossed back and forth between the people who believe in starting the 1954 congressional campaign early.

He has declared that the only reliable statistic on unemployment is the percentage of the total civilian labor force.

This force is constantly increasing. It is made larger by the normal increase in the portion of the population, by the goings and comings of young men in military service and higher education and by the changing habits of potential working adults. For example, as it becomes more acceptable for married women to hold down jobs, they become a net addition to the working force.

From 1941 to 1942, the civilian labor force jumped 3,000,000. From 1942 to 1943 it jumped another 4,000,000 as war workers flocked into factories. At the end of 1953, the total labor force, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, had reached 67,000,000.

Unemployment at that time comprised a little less than 4 per cent of the total labor force, explains Secretary Mitchell. It had been more than twice that proportion in 1950, following the recession of 1949.

In 1939, when the outbreak of war in Europe finally took the Roosevelt administration off the hook as far as unemployment was concerned, the proportion reached 17.2 per cent of the civilian labor force.

There are a great many people out of work in the United States. Many of them are seasonally unemployed. Many of them are unemployed because of cutbacks in production made necessary by the readjustment of the national economy to the leveling-off of defense production.

But when unemployment is in a proportion of less than 5 per cent to a labor force of 67,000,000 there is no justification for the scare talk which congressional campaigners are circulating for political purposes only.

Let Miss Phillips Do It

The results of a survey among public schools by Columbia University's psychiatric department can be expected to show up presently in school budgets here and there over the country.

The survey disclosed that many pupils in public school need psychiatric treatment. The average for 350 school systems containing about two and a half million children is 10 per cent.

It is pointed out that this proportion of "emotionally disturbed" pupils varies from a tiny trace in some systems to as high as 60 per cent in others, which would indicate a need for localized psychiatric treatment. But when services are added to the obligation of public-school systems, they tend to become general.

There are two questions to be asked and answered in connection with the findings of the survey.

The first question is whether or not the emotionally disturbed children — apparently a sizeable fraction of all school children — need psychiatric attention to make them more useful citizens. The answer would seem to be "Yes."

The second question is whether or not this attention should be added to the ever-growing obligation of society to underwrite the cost of education. Should an obligation once confined to basic education and which now extends to every conceivable ramification of education, even to specialized college courses, also include the services of psychiatrists to help "Miss Phillips" and the teaching profession do what formerly was done outside the school system?

Honestly, We Dread It

No game has more tradition than baseball. Millions of us profess a livelier interest in it than we sometimes feel because it is the national game. Americans, traditionally, know baseball lore. They traditionally enjoy a hot dog and a cold bottle at the ball game, abuse the umpire and develop fierce loyalties and dislike—all because it has been done that way in the past.

We are supposed to be crazy about baseball, in a nice, lovable way.

But honestly, we dread the beginning of another baseball season. There is a wrinkle in the baseball tradition which gives us the willies. Starting with the first day of spring training and lasting until the last day of the World Series the players will fall apart like antique furniture at a teen-age house party.

Knees will go poinng and fortunes will be lost. Clavicles will be busted. Muscles will develop knots, toes will be shattered like Sunday dishes and hips, backs and wrists will be cracked, twisted, fractionated and crushed. There will be days when huge lumps will come up in our throats at the thought of those invalids being forced by their cruel masters to trot out on the field under a hot sun while bearing pain which would drive ordinary citizens to their medicine cabinets for two aspirins.

Maybe it's time for someone to investigate professional baseball because it is cruel and inhumane to the batting case fodder it chews up and spews into the hospitals.

Peress Chronology

By David Lawrence

Background Clarifies Furor Over Army's Action

To understand the Stevens-McCarthy-Zwicker controversy it is necessary to piece together the chronology of events in the case. Here they are:

April 1953—the commanding general at Fort Kilmer, N. J. Predecessor of Gen. Zwicker) recommended that Capt. Irving Peress be dismissed from the Army. This recommendation was concurred in by the surgeon general of the army.

August 1953—Capt. Peress was presented with various questions in the normal course in connection with promotion procedure. His record showed that in November 1952 he had refused to answer the questions about membership in organizations to which he belonged, and wrote invoked his "constitutional privilege."

November 1953—Capt. Peress was promoted to major.

December 5, 1953—Inquiry on the Peress case was begun by the permanent subcommittee on investigations of the Senate Committee on Government operations, of which Sen. McCarthy is chairman.

December 30, 1953—Decision was made by the Army to terminate the services of Maj. Peress, but it was not disclosed at this time.

January 4, 1954 — Committee chairman notified a top-level official of the Army—presumably the counsel for Secretary Stevens—that Maj. Peress had been promoted at Camp Kilmer, that he was a card-carrying Communist and that something should be done about it.

JANUARY 18, 1954—An order was signed by the adjutant general awarding an honorable discharge from the Army to Maj. Peress and giving him the customary 90 days within which to make effective the date he wished to be discharged. He selected March 31.

January 26, 1954—Senator McCarthy notified the Army of the continued presence of Maj. Peress in the Army and directed Peress to appear at an executive session of the Senate committee on January 30. The Army at top level was invited to send a representative to attend the executive session.

January 30, 1954—Executive session held but no representative of the Army appeared in response to the invitation. Maj. Peress refused to answer 32 questions concerning alleged Communist activities while in the Army. On the same day Sen. McCarthy revealed that, despite the recommendations for dismissal made the previous year, Peress was not removed but was promoted. McCarthy demanded that action be taken on the basis of the sworn testimony of Peress.

February 1, 1954—Sen. McCarthy sent a formal letter to Secretary of the Army Stevens demanding that the honorable discharge for Peress be held up. This letter was made public in the press the same day.

FEBRUARY 2, 1954—Maj. Peress had changed his mind about the March 31 date and had selected this day as the date for his release. He received an honorable discharge entitling him to all the benefits of an officer thereafter. Gen. Zwicker signed this approval form.

February 3, 1954 — Secretary Stevens returned from abroad after a month's absence and told the press that any officer "should not get an honorable discharge from the service if he refuses to answer questions properly put to him by a congressional committee." He said the regulations then being published will assure this action for the future.

February 16, 1954 — Secretary Stevens wrote to Sen. McCarthy acknowledging that the Army's system of screening subversives had broken down. He admitted that Peress should never have been promoted to major and promised an investigation of all the circumstances surrounding it. In the same letter reference was made to technical difficulties in the past because to discharge dishonorably anyone for Communist party membership was regarded as "discrimination for political beliefs." This particular paraphrase of a previously existing Army order aroused the ire of Sen. McCarthy, who has been contending for a long time that the Communist party is not just a political party. The Department of Justice in its prosecutions under the Smith Act has contended that the Communist party is a conspiracy to overthrow the American form of government by violence and is not just a political party.

FEBRUARY 18, 1954 — Miss Ruth Eagle, a New York policewoman, testified before the Senate committee that, as an undercover agent, she had known Peress as a Communist and as a liaison officer between his Communist cell and the American Labor party.

February 18, 1954—Gen. Zwicker, commanding general at Fort Kilmer, testified before the same Senate committee and acknowledged that he knew about the Peress case before the honorable discharge was issued but felt he had no authority to hold it up, although he would have been able to hold up a discharge in the ecase of an officer charged with stealing $50. This is Army red tape. It so angered Sen. McCarthy that he lost his temper and assailed Gen. Zwicker, which was a grievous mistake. The testimony was released on February 22.

February 21, 1954 — Secretary Stevens announced he will not let any other Army officers testify and receive abuse.

February 24, 1954 — Secretary Stevens issued a statement withdrawing his prohibition against testimony by Army officers and promising to send officers involved in the case to answer congressional subpoenas. Three senators had pointed out to him that there is no authority for the secretary of the Army to determine whether an Army officer shall answer a subpoena lawfully issued or regulate what they shall say to congressional committees in answer to questions concerning governmental operations and procedures.

FEBRUARY 25, 1954—Secretary Stevens reiterates he was assured by the senators on February 24 that witnesses from the Army would not be subjected to abuse.

Actually the only official in the executive branch immune from a subpoena is the president.

As for any executive order prohibiting officers from saying certain things to Congress, this has never been tested in the courts.

Probably on matters of military secrecy it would never be challenged, but on the disclosure of information on ordinary procedures in the government the right of congressional interrogation would be upheld, judging by Supreme Court decisions in past cases.

Boom in Smoking Cures

It's an ill wind that blows no one some good — as is illustrated by the fact that one segment of the chemical industry is reaping a harvest from the current controversy over cigarette smoking, reports Chemical Week, a McGraw-Hill publication.

A crutch for will power, eagerly sought by those trying to crub the smoking habit, is the use of proprietary compounds that "guarantee" to break the habit.

For years there have been any number of these products available, some of them produced by reputable firms and others by "mail order" operators, but recent events have directed particular attention to them — and their effects. Saleswise, the business is worth around one million annually.

Many products now on the market, according to the article, employ a compound that makes the smoker's stomach "uneasy," hence curbs his desire to smoke; this assists him over the hump during the withdrawal period, but the compound causes nausea, dizziness, and acts as an emetic if taken in excess.

Another, originally formulated by a physician to help curb appetite in overweight patients, also decreased the desire to smoke in 77 per cent of 349 patients tested.

A third product, oldest in its field, originally was introduced in the early 1890s, at which time its makers claimed it would "bring back the vigor of early youth" by curbing the smoking habit which, the company asserted, was the cause of impotency in "nine cases out of ten." Reintroduced a few years ago after a period of 10 years during which it was neither manufactured nor sold, it now is a sales leader in the antitobacco field.

Basic reason for the existence of "cures," the magazine says, "is that there appears to be nothing in the ethical field a physician can prescribe for a patient who needs medical assistance in order to give up smoking.

Sometimes phenobarbital is given for the first days by the physician, but then the patient is on his own.

Whether the new and revised compounds will do the job their makers claim they can do and succeed where other products have failed, it is clear that people who need "will-power aids" don't have much of a choice.

Just as science has yet to investigate the effect of tobacco on the human body in a thorough manner, so must smoking-deterrent manufacturers do more spade work if they are to satisfy calls from would-be "quitters," the magazine points out.

Words of the Wise

I have always thought of Christmas time as a good time; a kind, time; charitable, pleasant time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely.—Charles Dickens.

At present we can only reason of the divine justice from what we know of justice in man.—Alexander Pope

Daily Bible Thought

Economic prosperity did not save Israel. It saves no one. A material harvest may injure us by excessive abundance. Treasures in Heaven are never too great. The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved. — Jer. 8:20.

Politicians Unreliable Economic Seers

By Raymond Moley

If you are a worker who has lost his job, this talk about whether we are in a depression or a recession is not matter of semantics or levity. You are in a depression.

If you are a businessman whose orders are shrinking and who must borrow to meet current obligations including taxes, you are in no mood for jokes. You are in a depression.

If you are a politician, your attitude and mood depend upon whether you are in office or out. If you are in, the matter can be no worse than a period of adjustment. If you are out, your mouth waters at the sight of a bread line.

That thought occurred to me when I witnessed Sen. Morse discoursing on television recently. I haven't heard such pessimism since 1932. Nor have I heard such ill-concealed delight at the fate of his beloved country after rejecting his advice in 1952.

IF I HAD unlimited space and time to pursue the subject, it would be possible to discourse at length on the way of politicians with economic predictions. I could show that slight economic dips in even-numbered years.

The reason, of course, is that we have national elections in even-numbered years and politicians are talking more.

I believe it also could be shown that expenditures for relief rise in even-numbered years, even when there is no rise in unemployment. All this is a grim commentary upon the ways of politics.

It should be more than a mere commentary, however. It should warn the wondering and perplexed citizen that he should get his economic wisdom from nonpolitical sources. He should make his plans and set his economic sights according to what he can see and hear in his own business and his own community.

In most years no generalized conclusion for the whole country can be made. Things are good here and bad there. The situation is almost always what economists call "spotty."

TO ILLUSTRATE the unreliability of politicians as economic seers, let us take the case of a real master in the Trade. Harry S. Truman, one president of this republic. In June, 1949, he assured the country that there was no threat of depression. Unemployment was then 3,200,000 considerably more than at present.

Things got no better, and by December the AFL predicted a figure of 5,100,000 unemployed in 1950. As that year dawned, the figure crowded 4,000,000. Despite this, Truman said in his economic report on January 7, that there was "renewed confidence."

He said there had been adjustment, but that 'today we are on firmer ground then we were a year ago." He said that employment was "moving upward." Those statements were, to use a gross understatement, untrue. Unemployment was rising fast. It reached 4,684,000 by February.

NOW LET US take the words of the same Harry S. Truman before the ADA in New York two weeks ago.

He said, among other things: "The recession that started on the farms last spring already has spread to the city streets." But by any figure that is comparable with 1950, the figure now is considerably below 3,000,000.

The figure of 3,100,000 unemployed which Morse and other critics are using is taken from a new form of calculation by the Department of Commerce. It cannot be compared with 1950 or 1953 or with last month.

If we stick to the older mode of calculation and take into account other factors, such as the increase in population, we are about 75 per cent better off than in 1950 at this time of the year.

Again let me say that this whole matter is not a subject for levity. A job is a job, and its loss is no joke. But a measure of the economic weather cannot be taken from those politicians who would either drug us with false optimism or precipitate a panic.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: What we have greatly feared is sneaking up on us. The Dickersons are "dickering" with some fellows who want to buy 10 acres off the southeast corner of their farm to put up a shopping center.

That would put us a quarter of a mile from the newest wrinkle in 20th century distribution of merchandise and people. It would be a high price for progress, but in a pinch we'll be able to pay it without squawking.

The trouble is that the Corners is halfway between two downtown shopping centers which grew up in the early years of the century and haven't kept pace with the times. As I have pointed out to my good friend, Lew Finch, he wouldn't try to sell the same kind of shoes he was selling in 1925 yet the only real change in his store, on the public square, since those days is the addition of electric lights. Oh yes, he took down the hitching rack at the curb so people getting out of automobiles wouldn't have to duck under the crosspieces any more.

Getting back to the Corners, though, the big population growth has been in the 20 miles between our two nearby metropolises, not in them. Consequently, there are several thousand people with no allegiance to either town, plus thousands of people in both towns who feel no special allegiance.

When you give a family an automobile and roads to drive it on, you have torn down the city walls and left the city gates open. Nature takes its course. I am not one of those who think the shopping centers opening up like pop corn in a hot skillet will destroy all the downtown shopping centers that grew up in the early days of the towns. But I think the new centers do reflect the hard, cold reality of urban growth. You can't button up people inside imaginary boundaries. Americans aren't afraid of Indians any more, nor fresh air. They can live where they please and scads of them live within automobile range of new shopping centers.

So it looks as if we'd have one, too. I suppose I should clap hands and feel glad. It will be good for the service station business. I suppose I should put on a new front and get uniforms for my gas hogs. But do you know what I think I will do? I will have a sign made. It will inform passersby that this is Ye Historic Gas Station, Lineal Descendant of the Livery Stable and Blacksmith Shoppe. Then I will buy up a mess of trinkets for your aunt to sell in the store, which will be shoved to the wall by the modern improvements down the road. I have in mind a nice grade of horseshoe nails to be retailed at 10 cents a nail.

We also can sell corn - meal mush at $1 for a dime's worth, cracklings in season, maple sirup likewise and a deal whereby we'll send a buck's worth of genuine strawberry preserves anywhere in the U.S.A. for $1. If we are going to pay the price of progress we might as well have some ready cash. That's the way I figure it.

On the other hand, they don't build shopping centers or Rome in a day. Maybe we've nothing to worry about.

Your aunt says, with a dirty chuckle, you should remember to take your sassafras tea this spring to thin your blood, just like in the old days when she worried about such things. She says she is chuckling because your blood already is so thin a slug of sassafras juice might let it leak out of your bloodshot eyes. You aunt is feeling kittenish today.

Letter From a Puzzled GI

Dear Ed. I see where an army dentist who wouldn't even fill out his loyalty questionnaire and who refused to answer any Senate Committee questions bearing on whether his heart belonged to Moscow, got promoted and an honorable discharge. Either the Army chiefs are just as scared as most folks by dentists or it is all a plot to make the GIs very unhappy on account of they have been getting clobbered in front-line combat for years without even being made a corporal.

There must be a million who took it on the chin in combat and never got close even to being made an officer of high rank or got gentle handling if they refused to answer questions as simple as "Got a match?" or "How's about trying to take Heartbreak Ridge single-handed between now and lunchtime?" You don't see no GIs showing up with a lawyer before being quizzed on their past and present conduct.

What goes with dentists and the Army? Maybe this dentist who was made a major despite his clam-up on important questions said to some general, "Do you want this tooth extracted painlessly or do I get promoted?" Dig in a guy have his forceps with him at all times?

What gets me is that he not only got a big promotion but a fast honorable discharge despite the fact he would not tell anybody what he had done over the past 10 years, while I am not even excused if I forget what I did under fire in the last 48 hours.

The secretary of war says he is going to make a full investigation to see how come this tooth specialist got it so good and so fast but the indignation seems to be directed more at Joe McCarthy than at the dentist. You would get the idea there was more danger from a senator with a searchlight than a dentist with a drilling machine, a secret past, a strange promotion record and an indisposition to come clean on all hunts that he has played musical chairs with Stalin. This man McCarthy can go too far at times, maybe, but how many of these scandals would be exposed if he was not operating?"

-:-

Well, all this is just to urge you to see if you can get me promoted and discharged. I will settle for a sergeantcy, and if it is necessary for me to put on a white coat and shake a pair of forceps at somebody I will do it.

I know a set of false uppers, from a set of lowers and would even be willing to hang a sign on my tent, "Dr. Purkey. Fillins' and Extractions. Hours two to five" if I could be made a major and sent home with honors. War is war but maybe dentistry is easier.

Oscar Purkey, PFC.

This column, for the second time, was among the Freedoms Foundation winners at Valley Forge for writers scoring "an outstanding achievement in helping to bring about a better understanding of the American Way of Life." The award this time was for "Mission Achieved," a verse on the death of a GI in Korea.

Elmer Twitchell is just recovering from a siege of Gleasonitis . . . had a pretty tough time of it, too . . . Ran about the house tearing his hair and yelling "Ankles Away!" — "Block that tibia!" — "Jackie to the right of me, Jackie to the left of me, into the valley of publicity rode quips by the hundred."

He sat in a high window crying, "One more episode of beating a hotel bill, being the life of a nightclub party or showing confidence in the face of early failure and I JUMP!"

Firemen brought him down, but Elmer nearly jumped in mid-ladder when he discovered one of the firemen was carrying a magazine with another Gleason article.

Book Review Is Presented By Mrs. Seiter

The story of Isaac Grossman and his struggle to right a wrong committed in his young manhood was vividly pictured by Mrs. Kenneth D. Seiter of Newark in her review of Sholem Asch's novel, "A Passage in the Night," Thursday night in the YMCA.

Mrs. Seiter, a former Marion resident, came to Marion under the sponsorship of the Clionian Club.

Her second appearance here since the holidays, her audience included a generous sprinkling of listeners who heard here before.

The novel, she said, is the author's first modern one since "East River," and is described as fiction, but is really drama. That it is a serious one was proven by the gripping story of Isaac's atonement, told by Mrs. Seiter with a depth of understanding which she passed on to her audience with a full measure of drama and interpretation.

The son of poor, but devoutly religious parents, Isaac Grossman wins worldly success and fortune, has a happy family life and finally wins peace when he purges himself of his sin of robbing a man he scarcely knew when a youth.

Mrs. Harley Lewis, president of the Clionian Club, welcomed the patrons and introduced the speaker.

Breakfast from 8 to noon — Dinner from 12 to 7:30 P.M.
"Hello-Hello how wonderful to see you and your family"
It happens every Sunday. Mother, dad and the children enjoy the finest food that money can buy, expertly prepared, served faultlessly, AND, surprise after surprise as friends meet, who may not have seen each other for months.
The menu is complete. Even the little folks have their choice of delectable foods that Mother doesn't always have time to prepare. And for the teen agers and their parents, a menu that will tempt any finicky appetite. We are very proud of our distinction, being the only restaurant in Marion that Duncan Hines, the world traveller, has visited and "tested by taste," and approved.

Dulles' Dilemma

By George Sokolsky

The Far East is to have some kind of conference at Geneva in April As those who participated in the Korean War are to attend

SOKOLSKY

North and South Korea and Red China and some of the Indo-chinese governments will attend But what about Formosa and the Philippines' What about the next countries to be conquered Thailand and Burma? Are they, too, to attend?

If Formosa is not present no Far Eastern Conference can have much meaning While there are some in this country who still lack a sense of proportion about Chiang Kai-shek and the Formosan government the fact remains that should Formosa disappear Communist control of China must be frozen unless Russia is defeated in war

AMERICAN relations with Formosa are divided among the State Department the CIA and the Joint Chiefs of Staff

The joint chiefs are more realistic in their appraisals of the situation than either the State Department, which is bogged down by too many problems or the CIA which tends to meddle too much in petty details

None of this matter however in the face of what may turn into a major betrayal of Formosa name ly a recognition of Red China and a seat for Mao Tze-tung in the United Nations

The war in Indochina is now the crucial question in Asia Everything that will develop during the next decade in Asia depends upon what happens in this war France is apparently worn out and can not or will not continue much longer

John Foster Dulles faced the very grave danger that if he did not accept the Far Eastern Conference the present French government might, probably would, collapse If a new government could be formed in the course of many weeks it would undoubtedly be a leftist one and might lead the country to a United Front

THE SITUATION in Italy is worse Despite the efforts of our Ambassador Clare Luce Italy is close to a Leftist United Front controlled by the Communists Italy could become the greatest danger point in Europe Dulles could not ignore that fact because it is fact

Dulles was also faced by the Russian advance in atomic fission the hydrogen bomb and aviation

We Americans do not know the whole truth about that I wish we did We could then think from knowledge and not from fairy tales

Sometime in the early years of the Truman administration someone blundered I am stating this vaguely because I do not know too much about it but what I do know frightens me every time I think of it The Russians boast that they have us beaten by at least a year in the development of the hydrogen bomb I am not capable of writing on this subject with any authority I do not even know what it means to be beaten by a year.

Europeans, who ought to know, tell me that the Russians do have an advantage but that we also have an advantage namely that our retaliatory power is extraordinarily great

If the Russians are ever able to eliminate our retaliatory power by developing a still greater advantage over us both in the hydrogen bomb and in long-distance bombers, they will make war on us.

MOVING OUT of the realm of atomic science, which I do not understand and jet propelled long-distance aviation, about which I know nothing into politics it begins to look as though John Foster Dulles had no alternative but to accept any program which has any hope of peace — even if it involves only a conference that may take some weeks

Many are sure that nothing will come of this conference But the United States ought not to reject a discussion of peace in Asia unless it is ready to go to war over Asia or any other part of the world If it is correct that the United States cannot go to war talk has its advantage

Besides the United States is bound to the proposition that it will not recognize Communist China or favor a seat for Communist China in the United Nations

On this subject this country ought to use the veto With such a principle surely held and never deviated from this country can without fear of a disastrous error attend the Geneva conference This means that while searching for a formula for peace there can be no deviation from essential principle.

CIO Wobbling

By Victor Riesel

The CIO is going backward

With its income already slashed at the rate of a million dollars a year because of unemployment, it is about to lose another $1 250,000 annually

Since it has been taking in and spending about 3 million dollars a year, it is faced with the loss of more than half its dues take — and must curtail organizing drives and perhaps even its militant New Deal political activity immediately

The odds are that CIO may not survive the year The organization — born in the thunder of John Lewis rolling thunder and launched on a thousand picket lines by the famous flying squads amid the smoke of tear gas and the chant of sit-down strikers — will soon be hit a splintering blow by its second most powerful leader

THAT MAN is the silver-haired pipe-smoking 51-year-old man of steel, David McDonald successor to the gentle Phil Murray McDonald's plans now it can be reported are to stop paying CIO the $1 250 000 annually dumped in to its treasury in per capita taxes by his United Steelworkers of America

Only Walter Reuther's resignation from the CIO presidency and complete surrender of power in the organization will change McDonald's mind it is said

At the moment the strategy of the leader of the Steelworkers is reminiscent of the Master Strategist — he of the eyebrows — whom McDonald so much admires McDonald won't quit CIO for a while He will simply withhold the giant Steelworkers Union dues to the CIO's national office He will be neither in nor out but he will be in a position to criticize Walter Reuther

McDonald will say if he breaks his silence as he now plans, that the Steelworkers have been paying their millions for nothing

He will question aloud — What has our money paid for What organizing has been done' Where is Walter Reuther's leadership' Who authorized Reuther to become part of any political party — and to join a faction within it, at that — McDonald will ask

REUTHER'S lucky star will have to work overtime without premium pay For coupled with McDonald's move will be a propaganda attack on the regional levels, aimed at Reuther's militancy

McDonald loathes what he refers to as Reuther's Socialist palace guard' or the young Turks, depending on his mood

Typical of this hatred was a vignette enacted in a Pittsburgh hotel suite some time ago McDonald came into the room and noticed in the group a man he believed was a friend of Reuther

Calmly but with a conversational rapier few thought he could wield McDonald stuffed to cut Reuther's 'friend' to ribbons on the ground that the victim was a socialist It finally took a priest close to Phil Murray (who was then still alive) and a high Washington official to keep the peace

McDonald sincerely believes that Reuther is building a Socialist labor movement in the image of the British Labor party McDonald doesn't want to be part of it

He believes too that Reuther is setting major labor policy as head of CIO when actually the head doesn't represent CIO sentiment

Furthermore, McDonald doesn't think that any important policy should be set without the approval of the Steelworkers Union which is at the very heart of American industry and certainly now one of the nation's two largest unions Yet McDonald can't set CIO policy.

SO HE PLANS to pull out if he can't drive Reuther from office In Connecticut the steel union already has begun raiding the auto union jurisdiction despite a written pact forbidding such drives

But the Reuther forces haven't exactly been quiet McDonald now has learned of several high strategy conferences held in New York, Washington and Detroit by Reuther's own camp

At these sessions it was decided to attempt to smear McDonald's personal reputation It should be pointed out that there is no evidence that Reuther personally participated in or approved or had knowledge of what happened However the anti-McDonald campaign certainly has started

As these two giants duel the CIO's little unions are quietly running for cover The CIO Oil Workers Union is prepared to move into a combine of national oil unions The CIO Meat Packers Union is set to join the AFL Meat cutters

The CIO Utilities and Maritime Unions have virtually cinched pacts taking them into the AFL Electrical and Sailors unions, respectively

Reuther can certainly use that lucky star
